

From: alobao@microsoft.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/23/02 2:59pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I think that a democratic state should not interfere in commercial issues but, if it needs to, it can never punish an enterprise in a way that would force it to give less quality services to its customers. And that's what's happening now: Microsoft is with its back against the wall just because it tried to give the best services and products to their users.

CC: alobao@microsoft.com@inetgw